Discover relaxation, romance, and rejuvenation at this grand desert hideaway.

Known for its picturesque red-rock formations, the small Southwestern town of Sedona offers travelers the opportunity to visit a stunning desert landscape in Arizona that boasts a temperate climate due to the higher elevation. Regarded as sacred by Native Americans, the destination welcomes visitors from all over the world who hope to experience spiritual renewal and healing from the renowned energy vortexes. Travelers also flock to the location to visit art galleries, world-class spas, and fine-dining establishments, as well as explore the beauty of the environment by hot-air balloon, helicopter, jeep, or by foot on picturesque hikes.

Just a two-hour drive north from Phoenix, Arizona, Sedona provides a gorgeous backdrop for destination weddings and an exceptional setting for rejuvenating honeymoons. Located down a quiet lane off of the main road that runs through the town, L'Auberge de Sedona welcomes guests with an immediate feeling of tranquility. Enjoy romantic, alfresco dining at Cress on Oak Creek, which focuses on wine-forward Southern European cuisine inspired by local ingredients, unwind with a revitalizing spa treatment at L'Apothecary Spa, and take part in yoga, sound healing, meditation, and more.

This luxury property showcases a range of accommodations offering views of the red rocks and Oak Creek to fit your preference. The main lodge is filled with peaceful rooms and suites, while private cottages provide beautifully decorated spaces, expansive decks, outdoor showers, and wood-burning fireplaces. Ideal for wedding parties and families, The Creekhouse features two stories and five bedrooms – each with a separate keyed entrance, as well as inviting common areas to relax, gather, and celebrate.
